Subject: 2020 Energy Code

To whom it may concern: From the experience of an HVAC contractor, the energy code will add expense to new construction. With the delays caused by COVID-19 plus the new energy code, it will be double whammy on the production of new homes. This is negative for the economy of our wonderful State and the direction money will flow. Anyone who spends money has a choice of where that money goes. If a new home is too spendy the money will flow in a different direction or not flow. Delaying the energy code is a mitigating solution.

Hope this makes sense. Thank you, Dennis Davis College Place Heating and Air Conditioning
