Richard,

I'm writing you to request that the formal code adoption for the 2018 codes be further delayed so that design professionals, builders, and code officials have more time to collaborate and determine best steps forward in meeting the new code requirements. No classes or workshops that were planned this month or in April are looking to happen, so I feel it is important that an opportunity for learning be available before implementation. Please consider this, as it affects so much of the construction industry, and related service organizations like myself.

Sincerely,

Luke Moerke, P.E.
