Washington State Building Code Council (SBCC)
RE: COMMERCIAL ENERGY CODE PROPOSALS 103 & 136
By email to: sbcc@des.wa.gov; stoyan.bumbalov@des.wa.gov

Washington State Building Code Council Members,

On behalf of the over 8,000 Members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers Local Union #77 (IBEW Local 77) to whom I am accountable, I am writing in opposition to proposed commercial energy codes 21-GPI-103 "Space Heating" and 21-GPI-136 "Heat Pump Water Heating."

Our Members include Journeyman-level highly-skilled workers in classifications such as but not limited to, high voltage Journeyman Linemen, Utility Electricians, high voltage Line Clearance Tree Trimmers, high pressure Gas Technicians, and hundreds more integral high skilled supporting classifications. We work in nearly every corner of Washington State. We are the People who bring the Power to the People.

Our workers and apprentices put their lives on the line every day. To reach Journey-level status, workers invest in up to 10,000 hours of intensive on-the-job training and experience responsible Journeyman-to-Apprentice ratios to ensure safety and the highest levels of instruction.

Our Members work on some of the most dangerous jobs in the world. We simply do not have the skilled workforce numbers to responsibly meet the policy demands of overly-aggressive electrification. Further, we will not rush the training requirements to bring new workers online.

We are the frontline workers who have built, maintain, and will be tasked with the upgrades and build out of our electrical grid which is already stressed. When aggressive electrification policies such as proposals 103 and 136 are discussed, please know that we are the people that you are discussing, or far too often not discussing.

IBEW Local 77 workers, our friends and families (including the hundreds whose names you will find in following pages) are counting on you to place a policy premium on the workers. The protection of our natural resources can and must equally protect our human resources. We are proud that in coordination with our employers, primarily public and private utilities, we have built, maintain and are innovators in sustainable energy systems.

To reiterate, we stand opposed to commercial energy code proposals 103 and 136, as these are singularly focused and if implemented may serve to deny residents of the opportunity to benefit from exciting new forms of space and water heating such as green hydrogen.

Thank you for your consideration.

Rex Habner
Business Manager/Financial Secretary
