Question/Comment

Eliminating natural gas is ludicrous. Poorer, especially, POC, use natural gas in many older homes/apartments. This would raise their utility bills. Also, much of the electricity used is created from natural gas, so it's okay to burn natural gas to create electricity, but not to heat a home? What hypocrisy! And actually, natural gas burns very cleanly, while dams hurt fish spawning, wind turbines chase animals away, and solar fries migrating birds...so which one is best? They all have pros and cons...please become more of a critical thinker looking at all sides of an issue.
