

Group 3 2021 Written Testimony Received
 Washington State Energy Code – EPCA Considerations
 Testimony received as of 11/18/2023

Name	Group if applicable	Subject	Summary
Dennis Davis		Don't discourage gas	Taking away competition between gas and electric utilities will discourage cost savings and efficiency.
Kristin Edmark		Emissions	Maintain the energy code as adopted last year and do not adopt a change which allows increased emissions
Ty Jennings	Cascade Natural Gas	Small business economic impact report, various changes	Given the expressed concerns, particularly those related to non-conformance with EPCA, the Administrative Procedures Act, and the Regulatory Fairness Act, the SBCC must take action to amend the code per public feedback and complete a small business economic impact statement.
Wendy Krakauer		Maintain a strong energy code	Please adopt these amendments to protect the work done to ensure new buildings are climate friendly and cost effective

Name	Group if applicable	Subject	Summary
Benjamin Nussdorf	National Propane Gas Association	EPCA Preemption	The proposals do not comply with EPCA. They still severely restrict access to gas equipment by creating financial barriers.
Jon Simpson	JWS Design	Housing affordability	Energy code compliance mandates exceed any possible return on investment.
